

NOURISH ACCREDITATIONS

NHS Transformation Directorate

Nourish were one of only two software providers to be accredited by NHSX (now known as the NHS Transformation Directorate) for its DSCR (Digital Social Care Records) Digital Purchasing System (DPS) at launch.

The DSCR Programme has an Assured Supplier List to support social care providers in England to buy from an assured list of digital social care record solutions. Their aim is for all CQC-registered adult social care providers to have access to a digital social care record by 2024.

PRSB

We are proud to be the first accredited by the Professional Record Standards Body (PRSB) as a Quality Partner, working to promote best practice standards for care. We work closely with the PRSB to define these new standards which are incredibly important as we strive towards greater interoperability within the health and social care sector. With more care providers switching to digital care management than ever before, it is so important to define a set of standards to ensure everyone receives the highest quality of care, but we also know that these standards are not set in stone, and they will continue to evolve to meet the needs of care providers and those they support. Nourish are Quality Partners for the About Me standard and the Digital Care & Support Plan standard.

“For us, being a PRSB Quality Partner means having a commitment to supporting the care sector in making the most of digital, making care personal, using tools that are empowering, enabling social care to achieve readiness to operate as part of integrated systems of care provision alongside their partners in health, in a landscape where key information is shared to improve outcomes for people”

The Outstanding Society

Our goal is to empower care providers throughout their digital journey, making the process as simple as possible with a platform that's easy to use, so that they can spend less time on admin, and more time doing what they do best – caring. Person-centred care and continuous care quality improvement are at the heart of what we do at Nourish, which is why we are so proud to be sponsoring The Outstanding Society, who are also dedicated to supporting care providers in being the best they can be. The Outstanding Society was formed by a group of providers who had achieved 'Outstanding' CQC ratings for their care services and who knew it would be helpful to share their expertise with other providers and support the driving up of quality care in England.

CASPA

Nourish CEO Nuno Almeida co-founded the Care Software Providers Association (CASPA), with two other leading technology suppliers within the sector to expedite integration between different digital care planning systems. CASPA is an independent association representing the views and interests of social care software providers with five objectives. One of its main objectives is the promotion and continued growth of the use of digital technologies in the social care sector to improve the quality of care delivered. CASPA is creating a series of documents that highlight the value and impact of digital technologies, and the risks of using non-digital technology. In addition, CASPA provides information to help care providers implement digital technology.
